MASSA'S IN DE COLD GROUND ... BY E. P. CHRISTY.

Round de meadows am a ringing De darkeys' mournful song, While de mocking-bird am singing, Happy as de day am long. Where de ivy am a creeping O'er de grassy mound, Dare old massa am a sleeping, Sleeping in de cold, cold ground. CHORES. - Down in de corn-field Hear dat mournful sound All de darkeys am a weeping-Massa's in de cold, cold ground. When the autumn leaves were falling, When the days were cold, Twas hard to bear old massa calling, 'Cause he was so wenk and old.

Now the summer days are coming, Massa never calls us more. CHORUS. - Down in de corn-field, &c. Massa made the darkeys love him, He always was so kind. Now they sadly weep above bim, Mourning, for he leave them behind. I cannot work before to-morrow, So many tear-drops flow-I try to drive away my sorrow, Picking on the old banjo. Chones.-Down in de corn-field, &c.

FROM THE SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS OF THE N. Y. HERALD. INTERESTING FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL Ex-Secretary Ecerct's Speech-Its effect-Belief that Eng-Lend will Reputiate recent Acts-The Tehnantepec Affair - Nominations - Invitey Mann as Assistant Secretary of State-The International copy right Treaty, etc., etc.

Washingron, March 21-8 P. M.-Mr. Everett's speech to-day made a decisive impression. Several diplomats were present, including the English, French and Spanish Ministers. The representative of Costa Rica was also in the chamber. No statesman here believes that England will give the United States cause for offence-but that, on the contrary, she will promptly repudiate any acts of her agents which are calculated, in the slightest, to wound our sensibilities or invade our principle.

Mr. Mason will endeavor to-morrow to call up the Tehuantenec resolutions affirming the Garay grant. There has been no treaty received by the Senate with reference to the Sloo grant, and therefore no notice will be taken of Dudley Manu, and not Mr. Eames, of the Union, is nominuted as Assistant Secretary of State. This appointment is the most important that has been made by the government, not excepting the heads of departments, and is indicative of the determination of the President to assume a high tone with reference to our European politics. It will give confidence in the State Department. Young America pressed

Mr. Mann's appointment. R. W. Hammond, formerly of Maryland, was nominated for Collector of San Francisco, California; Mr. Mizner as Collector of Benicia, and Mr. Scotield as Collector of Stockton. It is understood that both the California Senators were in favor of Mr. Hammond, and that Senator Gwin endorsed Messrs, Mizner and Scofield.

Mr. Monroe, of Kentucky, was nominated as Judge of the new Territory of Washington. Mr. Farquharson, of Tennessee, is to be the Secretary of the same Territory.

Mr. Upham, of New Hampshire, was nominated as Commissioner to adjust certain claims against Great Britain under a late treaty; and J. A. Thomas, as agent of the United States before the Board.

Paul Arnot was also nominated as Collector of San Augus-

A variety of rumors are floating about as to appointments, which can be taken for what they are worth. Among them is the statement that Judge Mason, of Iowa, is to be Commissioner of Patents-that Mr. Moneypenny, of Ohio, is to be First Assistant Postmaster General, and that Mr. Dundas, the Second Assistant is to be retained.

It is very probable that Mr. Law, in his interviews with the President, &c., is attending to his own business, and not, as the quid nunes have it, to any diabolical plots. There were no appointments for New York or Philadelphia, or any contested points,

The International Copyright treaty has not yet been under discussion in the Senate, and the objections to it have therefore not been formally made, but simply in conversation. It was referred to a committee, who have not acted upon it, and the chances are that it will not reach the Senate in time for action; but, in any event, its friends there are

You are mistaken in supposing that Mr. Calhoun was in favor of an international copyright treaty. He always denounced it as unconstitutional.

The constitutional question raised in the Senate on the international copyright treaty is incorrectly stated in Sunday's Herald, through a blunder in the telegraph office. Correctly stated it is as follows: "The constitution gives Congress the power by law, not the Senate, in its executive capacity, by treaty, to secure to authors, &c., for limited times, the exclusive right to their respective writings." These are the words of the constitution.

FRENCH FLERT ORDERED TO NICARAGUA,-WASH-INGTON, March 20.—Louis Napoleon is about to send a naval force to San Juan de Nicaragua to demand from the Municipal Authorities there, satisfaction for fines levied by them upon French subjects for their refusal to comply with some of the demands of the authorities of that place. The French Government, before deciding upon this course, made a demand upon the British Government, but that Government replied that it had no responsibility in the case, for by treaty with the United States it had relinquished all authority and dominion there.

NASHVILLE, TENN.

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 29, 1853.

· RAILROAD SUBSCRIPTIONS. All the districts have sent in their polls with the exception of the 25th district. The aggregate vote stands as follows: Louisville and Nashville road:

For stock,

Against stock. 1,394 Majority for stock - -Tennessee and Alabama Road: For Stock. - - 1855 Against Stock, - - - 1375 Majority for stock, Nashville and North Western Road: For Stock, - - - 1727 Against Stock - 1430 Majority for stock, Edgefield and Kentucky Road: For Stock 1808

1406 Against Stock - -Majority for stock It will be thus seen that the subscription for each road has carried by majorities ranging from 297 to 480. The subscriptions to each road is as

North Western Railroad, to be paid in county bonds, $300,000 Tennessee and Alabama Railroad, to be paid in county bonds, Louisville and Nashville Railroad, to 200,000 be paid in county bonds. 300,000 Ed efield and Kentucky Railroad, to 200,000 be paid in county bonds, 1,000,000

THE LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE RAILROAD.

Our citizens having decided to subscribe $300,000 to this enterprise, they will be interested in learning something concerning its present prospects. We find in our last Louisville exchanges several articles on the subject, urging the Common Council to consummate the subscription of one million of dollars voted by the citizens of Louisville sometime since. The ordinance providing for this subscription contained a proviso that $900,000 of the million shall not be subscribed until the Common Council is satisfied, and so inform the Mayor, that a sufficient amount has been subscribed by other responsible parties to build the road, with the aid of the city's subscription. The Common Council, it seems, hesitate to give this official notification to the Mayor. The Courier charges that the cause of this strange proceeding is opposition to the depot location. We

We have for some time been aware that the President and Directors of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company have had such arrangements comepletely in control as would enable them at any moment to announce their road under contract for completion, to a company of ample means and high character, who proposed to take pay in their city and county and railroad bonds, and $750,000 in the stock of the road; yet we have been under obligations to make no other use of this information but to govern our editorial course in reference to this

Now, however, this information may be given to the public, because it was communicated on Thursday night last to the General Council of this city by the President of the Railroad Company, in explanation of his call upon them to complete the action of the people in reference to subscribing the million of dollars to their stock.

This announcement we are sure will be most gratefully received by our citizens who have not un derstood that the managers of this railway company had adopted the usual Louisville policy of being forward in action, but only behind in boastful announcement of their doings. Every citizen of Louisville, of Kentucky, who has looked upon this grand project with interest, and believed that our prosperity depended upon its prompt completion, yet doubted whether our citizens possessed the energy and would contribute the means needed to build it, will rejoice with us, and no longer hesitate when he learns from the official communication of Mr. Shreve, the President, (within the fraction of an hundered) Five MILLIONS OF DOLLARS of means are certaily available in the hands of the board for building the road, and that a binding proposition is before them to take these means and complete the road within the next two and one half years! There will be a damper, however, upon the joy of our citizens; they have yet to learn that the Board of Common Councilmen hold the fate of this great enterprise in their hands and that eight of them, just one-half, refused to pass a resolution informing the Mayor that means sufficeint, outside of Louisville, had been provided to ensure the completion of the road with the city's subscription of a million, and directing him to subscribe the Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars of that sum remaining

THE TRIBUNE AND MR, EVERETT.

Horace Greeney occasionally indulges in very strong criticisms of prominent whig politicians. It is almost the only good trait in his character, that he is not entirely blinded by partizan feeling to the errors and follies of his party leaders. Now and then he censures them with honest fervor, and rarely ever "hits them a lick amiss." Of Mr. EVERETT's late effort in the Senate, he takes the following no-

Mn. Evenerr's Speech.-Mr. Everett made an oily and mealy mouthed speech in the Senate vesterday, on Central American affairs. His discourse was of the very daintiest, and softest, and politest description. He bowed to all sides, and was most gracious to all sides. He was bland and Leautiful beyond precedent. He smiled upon the audience and smiled upon his colleagues; smiled upon Judge Donglas, smiled upon Mr. Clayton, smiled upon Great Britain, smiled upon Gen. Pierce, concurred with everybody, and complimented everybody in the most affable and undulating and honied terms that the vocabulary of his choicest rhetoric could furnish. There never was such an ocean of sweets, never such delicious streams of nectar poured forth. So have we seen a popular and petted performer come forward, and with his face wreathed in smiles and joy beaming from his countenance, bow to the front, bow to the right, bow to the left, bow to his associates, bow all round, and at length sit down in This is a matter of some importance to buyers the very lap of applause. Thus was it, apparently, and consumers; and dealers, particularly those in with the Senator from Massachusetts in his speech | the northwest, who have been accustomed to obyesterday.

AFFECTING CALAMITY. - The Peoria, Ill., Republican states that a gentleman who had been for some time paying addresses to a young lady, asked her hand in marriage, which was refused. He plead for some time after, and declared if she still resisted his suit he would commit suicide. She informed him such an alternative would not influence her in the least. At this he loaded a gun and standing in front of the house, placed the muzzle in his mouth. and with his toe pulled the trigger. The discharge tore away his left cheek, and horribly mutilated his whole head and face, but did not kill him, though his recovery was considered impossible. The lady stood in the door and witnessed the whole of the terrible transaction.

EXTRAVAGANT .- At one of the New York city hotels a merchant doing business in that city has rooms for which he pays $480 a week ! His family consists of five persons. The Cincinnati Enquirer says that counterfeit three-dollar notes of the State Bank of Indiana are in circulation in that city. They are well calculated to deceive.

SANTA ANNA AT CARTHAGENA.

General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, since he quitted Jamaica two years ago, has been living about six leagues from Carthagena, at a place called

His mode of life is calm and uniform. He does not even make any change for visitors in established rules. In the morning, after taking coffee, he mounts his horse and rides for a couple of hours.— On his return, he takes a bath. Breakfast is served at ten. At noon, the rich capitalist goes into his cabinet, and like a banker or broker with us receives the men who may wish to have transactions with him. Well posted up in his department of finance, it is said that like my uncle Matthew, he can tell what a crown will amount to in a quarter of an

After the siesta, five times a week, the trainers of game cocks come with victims. The pit is opened. Santa Anna occupies the place of honor in the midst of his aviary, which is rich in a most beautiful collection of the biped gladiators. Generally the pride of the feathers leads the Lord Governor to take bad bets. Thus, it is said, the greater part of the profits of his usury is given back to the chances of the spur.

Before dining at 6 o'clock, the General takes another bath. He dresses in full military uniform when he has guests to whom he wishes to do honor,-This is no slight sacrifice to politeness, I might say to vanity, in such a hot country. The table is most sumptuously served, and Santa Anna knows how to eat. Cards and music, and dancing, and drinking and smoking are prolonged till midnight. Then you are shown to your chamber by graceful mulattoes, where under good musquito nets, you may choose between a bed or a hammock, and sleep till sunrise. As soon as it is light, attentive waiters bring you a basket of fruit and a cup of coffee. General Santa Anna, who speaks French correctly, is very reserved on politics. Still, it is easy lo see that he has yet an ardent ambition concealed under this appearance of coldness. His partisans understand the matter, and the diplomatic service is in request. The time is approaching when the financial erisis will finish the dissolution of the present organization of the Mexican Republic. It has been put off thus far only by the annual instalments of the Americans to pay for California.

FROM THE NEW YORK BERALD. Interference with the American Mail-The Captain General and Mr. King-Sentencing the Political Prisoners and Accused-Preparations for another Revolution HAVANA, March 12, 1853.

I duly reported to you that the mails made up for the Black Warrior, for New York, on her last voyage, had been seized on their way to the wharf, and taken into a police office, where they were rifled. The United States mails for New York and New Orleans, to be conveyed by the respective mail steamers, were served in the same manner, with the addition, that the mail bags being sealed at the agent's office, they were unconsciously opened by a common police agent. The United States mails to go by the Isabel, via Charleston, it was intimated, would likewise be subjected to search, but in consequence of an energetic letter addressed by Consul Sharkey to the Captain General, remonstrating upon conduct so extraordinary and insultextract the following paragraph from the Courier's | ing to the United States government, the Isabel's mails escaped that indignity.

I believe the mail bags made up for the United States, to go by the steamers which have since sailed, have not been interfered with,

The government has thought it necessary, in an editorial which appeared on Friday last in the Diario de la Marina, and on the previous day in the Gazette, to reply to the statement published in the Herald relative to General Canedo's discourtesy to Vice President King. An attempt at denial is set | tion proposed and accepted, was an annuity of some up, but the matter was too notorious for General Canedo's assertions to the contrary to alter in the slightest degree the real facts.

Mr. King has left Mr. Jenks' plantation near Matanzas, and gone to Limonar, still further into the interior, where it is hoped his health will continue

With respect to the forty-nine political prisoners belonging to the first session, whose trial has been going on during the last two weeks, and who are now waiting the sentence of the court martial, I understand that the Fiscal has demanded that sentence should be pronounced upon Doctor Gazie, a man of large family, aged 56. Hernandez Perdomo, son of the Count of Villamar, aged 27. Licenciado Miranda, lawyer.

Lieut, Fortun, son of Brigadier Fortun, nephew of Count Mirasol. And a young man of the interior named Cristo. Besides the above, the Fiscal has asked condemnation to death for-

Don Porfirio Valiente and his wife, New York. Don Garcia Tejada, New York. Don N. Estrampal. And one or two others who are fortunately in the United States.

It is said seventy-six prisoners will have to stand their trial in the second court of session, Those prisoners not to suffer death are to be sent to Centa, in Africa, for various periods. As soon | nexation. as the sentences are promulgated, I will hasten to send them to you. The people speak confidently of something which is about to take place, and notwithstanding the imprisonments, trials, and condemnations going on about them, talk boldly of the probable speedy overthrow of the detested Spanish dominion. In the meantime, the Spanish are getting considera-ble steam force together round the Island, having no less than eight or ten first-rate steamships in the different harbors, besides a large number of sailing vessels. The forts have all been put in an excellent state of repair, and they are occupied in mounting

EXTENSIVE WHITE LEAD WORKS.—The manufacture of White Lead is very extensively carried on in Pittsburg, and we are pleased to note that the increased demand for it has led to increased facilities for its production.

We paid a visit, a day or two since, to the extensive manufactory of B. A. Fahnestock & Co., and were politely shown over the establishment by one of the partners having charge of the factory. The increased demand for their brand, has led the enterprising proprietors to considerably enlarge their establishment, and improve the machinery.— They have erected additional large and handsome brick buildings, and corroding beds, each capable of containing one thousand pigs of lead, which will enable them to materially extend their operations. and meet the wants of their customers. The increased capacity of their works is equal to four hundred tons over the production of the past year .-Their White Lead is warranted strictly pure, entirely free from any admixture, and the specimen we saw certainly was very fine and white. Each keg contains the full weight of lead, accurate tare being allowed for the kegs, and not as is the case with many of the eastern manufactories, giving only net weight, including the keg.

tain their supplies eastward, would do well to bear this in mind, now that railroad communication is so direct from here, and freights cheap to all points on the Lakes. The cheapness of fuel, and the comparatively low cost at which the raw material can be brought here, has always made this a favorite point for the purchase of White Lead.

Messrs, Fahnestock & Co., have spared no expense in endeavoring to earn a good name for their manufactory, and their success is, therefore, the more gratifying .- Pittsburg Gazette.

THE WOMAN MOVEMENT .- Some twenty-eight of the "strong-minded women" of Massachusetts are out in a petition to the Constitutional Convention. lately chosen in that State, in which they make the following request.

"The undersigned, citizens of Massachusetts, respectfully ask that you will report an amendment to the constitution, striking out the word 'male' wherever it occurs in that instrument."

William L. Garrison and sixteen other chaps in breeches are mixed up in the list of "reformers." The movement is simply to say nothing about sexes in the constitution, and then human wisdom. led on by Abby Kelley, will have effected what Providence has heretofore signally failed in-the women will all be men!

J. L. SCABBER, Secretary. THE SANDWICH ISLANDS-PROBABLE ANNEXA-

TION TO THE UNITED STATES. The correspondent of the New York National

Democrat, writing from Washington says: A number of wealthy Texans who have made themselves as rich as princes in California, have just entered into negotiations with the copper-colored King of the Sandwich Islands, to buy out his kingdom, crown and sceptre, throne, and even regality, down to the last bead of the royal adornment, and the last yam-patch of the royal domain. If the bargain is agreed too, we are told, these gentlemen intend making Uncle Sam a present of the Islands. The writer adds:

"This is the simple and literal truth, strangely as it may sound in the United States. The consideraten thousand dollars a year, during the life of the King of the Islands, who it may be observed, has no children, and is, therefore, less anxious about a kingdom which he cannot transmit to a lenial heir. The bargain was secretly concluded some time in 1850, and the delighted negotiators despatched one of their number to lay the affair before our Secretary of State. Judge of their vexation, when they found the British minister had anticipated their news, through the activity of the English merchants at the Sandwich Islands, and forestalled all their plans.

Directly after the California envoys had left the Don Juan Gonzales Alvarez, sugar planter, aged | Islands in the full conviction that the purchase was an accomplished fact, the British agents obtained from the timid and changeable King a negation of the whole business of sale, and met at Washington, the written proffer to cede the Islands to the United States by a later writing that the only and determined wish of the King of the Sandwich Islands, was to preserve the independence of his kingdom, and make its ports the hospitable haven of all friend-

This would seem to end the matter, but the Californians who had embarked in it, were determined not to give up the ship, and are very busy in bringing the King back to his bargain. If they succeed it is their plan to declare the Sandwich Islands a county of the State of California, and they say the Legislature of California will unanimously agree to take temporary jurisdiction, and then formally apply to Congress for its sanction to permanent au-
